Buying tickets on board

You can buy your ticket directly on board buses using a contactless payment card or a digital wallet device (Apple Pay or Google Pay). Tap your card or device on the validator and wait for the green light.

Tap again every time you board a new bus: at the end of the day, you will automatically be charged the best available rate.

Find out how to buy tickets for yourself and other passengers (up to 10):

Tpl Fvg digital tickets can be purchased:

Tickets must be activated at the start of your trip directly in the “tickets” section of the app.

Tickets must be activated at the start of your trip by scanning the QR code on the stickers on board.

Real-time info & SWIPE feature

With glimble FVG you can check real-time bus schedules and plan journeys combining multiple routes.

Try SWIPE mode: start your journey when boarding and pay at the end of the day with the best value fare automatically applied.

Paper tickets and validation

Tpl Fvg paper tickets can be purchased:

- at ticket offices and authorized retailers
- at automatic ticket machines

To validate a paper ticket, hold the QR code up to the reader and wait for the green light and validation message on the display.

If several people are traveling with the same multi-journey ticket, select the number of passengers using the “^ v” buttons, then scan the QR code.

To check the time of validation or remaining rides, press the OK button on top and scan the QR code.
